

Spring

INSPIRED MOVIE BUCKET LIST

The Notebook (2004)
Genre: Romance, Drama
Age Restriction: PG-13

Set during the Spring and Summer seasons, this timeless love story follows a young couple whose passionate romance spans decades, capturing the essence of the season's renewal and the everlasting power of love.

Fantastic Mr. Fox (2009)
Genre: Animation, Adventure | Age Restriction: PG

In this whimsical stop-motion animated film, a wily fox and his animal friends band together to outsmart a trio of malicious farmers in a story that embraces the spirit of Spring's abundance and the celebration of nature.

Little Miss Sunshine (2006) Genre: Comedy, Drama | Age Restriction: R

In this heartwarming road trip film, a dysfunctional family embarks on a cross-country journey to support their daughter's beauty pageant dream, capturing the sense of adventure and new possibilities that Spring brings.

Midnight in Paris (2011)
Genre: Comedy, Fantasy
Age Restriction: PG-13

A woman who mysteriously ceases to age navigates a secret life throughout the decades, experiencing Spring's eternal sense of rebirth while grappling with the timeless nature of love and the passage of time.

Sense & Sensibility (1995)
Genre: Romance, Drama
Age Restriction: PG

This period drama follows the Dashwood sisters' romantic pursuits amidst changing seasons and blooming landscapes, embodying love, resilience, and the promise of new beginnings in Spring.

A Walk in the Woods (2015) Genre: Adventure, Comedy Age Restriction: R

Based on Bill Bryson's memoir, this comedy-drama follows two friends on a Spring hiking journey along the Appalachian Trail, exploring friendship, self-discovery, and the awakening beauty of nature.

The Great Gatsby (2013)
Genre: Drama, Romance
Age Restriction: PG-13

This lavish film, adapted from F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel, captures the longing and decadence of the Roaring Twenties in Spring, exploring themes of love, obsession, and the transient nature of beauty in a vivid portrayal of a bygone era's allure.

Forrest Gump (1994)
Genre: Drama, Romance
Age Restriction: PG-13

This beloved film follows Forrest Gump, a kind-hearted man who experiences key historical events, with Spring providing a backdrop for moments of love, growth, and the beauty of life's unexpected journey.

The Secret Life of Bees (2008) Genre: Drama
Age Restriction: PG-13

Set in 1960s South Carolina, this poignant film follows young girl Lily as she finds solace with beekeeping sisters, exploring themes of love, acceptance, and the power of female bonds through Spring's metaphor of renewal and growth.

Ferris Bueller's Day Off (1986) Genre: Comedy
Age Restriction: PG-13

Join charismatic high school student Ferris Bueller on his unforgettable day off during the vibrant Spring season in this classic comedy that captures the youthful exuberance, adventure, and carefree spirit embodying the essence of Spring.

Little Women (2019)
Genre: Drama, Romance
Age Restriction: PG

This adaptation of Louisa May Alcott's novel follows the March sisters as they navigate love, loss, and the pursuit of their dreams amidst Spring's transformative power, beautifully portraying themes of sisterhood, resilience, and new beginnings.

The Spectacular Now (2013)
Genre: Drama, Romance
Age Restriction: R

Set during the final months of high school, this coming-of-age film follows two teenagers as they navigate the transformative experiences of Spring, capturing their evolving relationship and transition into adulthood.